VIC continues to Support Student's Education

Over the past several months, Veterans International Cambodia continued to work with children with disabilities and provided them with the opportunity to receive an education.

This past October, VIC's center in Prey Veng worked to integrate students into their respective high schools and universities. Twelve of them are currently enrolled in college. Additionally, VIC has integrated 164 new students and monitored 427 students by assisting them through various kinds of school support including providing school supplies.

Additionally, VIC has made a continued effort to make schools accessible to students with disabilities. Samon has been working with a school principal in the Saang district to build a wheelchair ramp as well as a principal in Ksachkandal district to help make the facilities more accessible.

VIC Conducts National Training Program

On July 19th Veterans International Cambodia facilitated a National Training Program for the Physical Rehabilitation Committee on the Management of Stroke and Cerebral Palsy. There were 45 physical therapists, technicians and prosthesis and orthotic technicians in attendance.

The opening ceremony on July 19th was presided over by Secretary of State of MOSVY, His Excellency Sem Sokha. The closing ceremony on July 23rd was presided over by General Director of the General Directorate, His Excellency Prak Chanthoem.

The training sessions were divided into two components, theoretical and practical. The theory training was conducted at the Technical School for Medical Care and the practical sessions were at the Kien Khleang Rehabilitation Center. During the practical portion participants had the opportunity to assess and fabricate three trolleys for three children. Presentations included lectures by Dr. Jane Wu, consultant physician in rehabilitation medicine. Dr. Wu presented on subjects including subtype of stroke, pathophysiology of stroke recovery, stroke risk factors and epidemiology. The practical session took place on July 22nd at the Kien Khleang Rehabilitation Center. Participants were divided into three groups and were instructed to assess three children with cerebral palsy and then establish a plan of treatment. The three groups also had the opportunity to fabricate custom seating systems.

Participants expressed that the 5-day training session was extremely effective and thought highly of the training. The lectures allowed the participants to better understand concepts and the practical sections allowed them to put these concepts into practice.

VIC Centers hold Photography Workshops; 1,527 attendees at informal education classes in 2010

Prey Veng, Kratie and Kien Khleang Rehabilitation Centers held Photography workshops this past May as part of their education workshops. Workshops were held from May 3rd through May 14th for two days at each center. There were 13, 12 and 15 attendees in Prey Veng, Kratie and Kien Khleang respectively.

The first photography workshops were taught by Ryan Ansin and Bonie Levy with assistance from center staff. The Photography Workshops at the VIC centers were held as an ongoing fund raising strategy with plans for future US exhibitions in Boston.

Participants had the opportunity to learn how to utilize a digital camera and how photography could be used as a form of expression. Each student received a certificate of achievement at the end of the class.

Follow-up classes were held at the Kratie and Kien Khleang Rehabilitation Center in August. More than twenty children with disabilities attended the workshops.

Over the past six months, the Community Rehabilitation Centers of Veterans International Cambodia's conducted various informal education classes that had over 1,500 attendees. Attendees included people with disabilities as well as their families. Individually, Prey Veng had over 800 attendees and Kien Khleang and Kratie each had over 200 participants.
